TERMITE MANAGEMENT

Termites damage household articles like furniture, plywood, clothing, stationery, etc. by feeding on wood and other organic material having cellulose base. Subterranean termites make nest in soil and workers search for wood by burrowing through the ground and making tunnels of mud.

They travel through masonry work, brick walls and conduits of the building to the source of food and cause damage to the property and belongings.

PIPM Pest Control's Termite Management Service provides comprehensive protection against termite infestations, safeguarding your property from costly structural damage. Our skilled technicians use advanced detection methods and targeted treatments to eliminate active colonies and prevent future infestations. Through a combination of inspections, eco-friendly treatments, and preventive measures, we address termites at every stage of their lifecycle.

Trust PIPM Pest Control to keep your property termite-free and structurally sound.
